

Make A Pop Music Video

Who we are:

List of life Event is a London based company who have been running for 14 years, we specialise in organising socials, corporate activities and weekend trips. Our creative team of event organisers have come up with a range of activities that are thought provoking, mind stimulating and even stress relieving.

The Overview

Thorsen on Flickr[caption] Get ready for a team-building session like no other! Once welcomed with bubbly, this two hour and 15 minute session includes a professional choreographer, filmmaker and team of make-up artists who will guide you in creating a great pop music video! Choose from a number of listed songs and learn the lyrics and some dance moves from the staff on hand. Not only is this session fun for all involved but it is a fantastic team-building activity since the group will have to allocate their tasks and work together to ensure perfect timing of singing and dancing. This is a really unique corporate event and is bound to keep the team talking about the day long after—especially if they all have a copy of the music video!
